

The first bloom of spring always makes my heart sing...

In a world where Coronavirus 19 seems to have invaded every corner of our lives, we want to unite our Red Barn family. We encourage you to keep in contact with one another, stay close to our older or single friends, keep a routine as we stay at home, stay hydrated, eat healthy, wash your hands, and don't forget to get some sunshine! Turn the TV off for a while and enjoy some good music. Get your machine and cut up your fabric and sew it back together again! Work on your Blocks of the Month blocks, and make something that makes your heart light! If you need anything, Red Barn is here for you! We are here if you need to talk, need a long distance hug, or an encouraging word. If you need quilting supplies then we shop via video, text, FaceTime, or our online shop at www.redbarnranchtx.com or our Etsy shop, Redbarnranch. We will even deliver your purchases to local customers or mail it to no-so-local customers. If you feel the need to take a drive out here for some fresh air, we will deliver your order barnside!

One message we cannot stress enough is to please shop local with our community's small businesses! It is vital to the survival of small business owners.

Red Barn is working hard to make sure we keep our community united and provide a safe environment for you. You are greatly valued, deeply loved, and missed. We will be together again SOON! Until then, we will make plans for the future! Our store hours will remain Wednesday-Saturday 10-5. We will closely monitor the changing environment and make adjustments as needed. Please watch Facebook and email for updates.

Picture Piecing

Tuesday, April 28
10-4pm
Class Fee: $45 plus $10
for Kit
Lunch provided for $10

Brenda Keith of Abilene will be our guest teacher. She will teach the "Learner Kit" (the butterfly shown to the right) that will be completed in the morning in class. You will be able to select from more patterns to purchase to work on in the afternoon. Picture Piecing was developed by Cynthia England whose quilts have won many awards including the "Piece and Quiet" quilt show to the right. This is a beautiful new quilting technique to learn.
